COLORADO CREATIVE INDUSTRIES FACTS

IN THE CENTENNIAL STATE, THE ARTS UNITE US

The arts help to heal the wounds of our recent wars. Through its national initiative Creative Forces: NEA Military Healing Arts Network, the National Endowment for the Arts has added new clinical sites to the network, including Fort Carson in Colorado Springs.

COLORADO CREATIVE INDUSTRIES. Colorado’s state arts agency, is a Division of the Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade. The mission of the Creative Industries Division is to promote, support and expand the creative industries to drive Colorado’s economy, grow jobs and enhance our quality of life. Colorado Creative Industries offers grants, awards and resources to support creative organizations in Colorado. Colorado is also served by the Western State Arts Federation (WESTAF), located in Denver.

THE ARTS ARE EVERYWHERE!

- Spanning 331 miles, five Colorado destinations form a “Creative Corridor” with wide-ranging arts and cultural offerings, which are situated in some of the state’s most beautiful landscapes. The destinations in the Creative Corridor are Creative Districts, a designation for the state’s most art-focused communities.
- In Carbondale, spend an afternoon at the Third Street Center, where you’ll stumble on grassroots art galleries. Other highlights here include the Powers Art Center, a memorial to pop artist Jasper Johns, and True Nature Healing Arts, a center for yoga and spiritual wellness with an underground kiva. For the cool factor, you can slumber in the stills at the Marble Distillery Inn.
- A must-see in Salida: The Rio Grande ARTway, a hiking and biking trail, that has been beautified with a Latino Folk Art Garden and a Youth Art Park, with interactive sculptures, a woven teepee, gardens and even a funky, multimedia structure that serves as a bug hotel. The Arkansas River cuts through Salida’s downtown, drawing rafters and kayakers, while the nearby Collegiate Peaks attract hikers and mountain climbers. Downtown is lined with studios, galleries and locally owned eateries, many in charming Victorian-era buildings.
- Crested Butte’s artistic credentials include more than 70 creatives in town, including metal workers, photographers, plein-air painters and ski manufacturers. Take a self-guided tour of the galleries in the Elk Avenue historic district. Or, come for one of Crested Butte’s many festivals, including the Crested Butte Music Festival, which runs in July and August or the Film Festival that happens in the fall.
- Paonia has a large share of organic farms, orchards and vineyards, making it the consummate host for farm-to-table meals and winemaker dinners. For a sample, pick fruit and do a hard cider tasting at Delicious Orchards. In town, Grand Avenue is idyllic, with turn-of-the-century buildings housing local shops and restaurants, art galleries, a movie theater and a radio station.
