THE ARTS ARE EVERYWHERE!

• Recognizing the arts sector as an asset in economic development and community-building, the Commonwealth has established 45 cultural districts. The destinations below represent only a few of the Commonwealth’s cultural offerings.
• In western Massachusetts, see the famous illustrations of the Norman Rockwell Museum in Stockbridge, which is near many art galleries in Adams, Pittsfield, and Barrington. Novelist Edith Wharton’s former estate and lovely gardens are worth a visit in nearby Lenox. The Barrington State Company produces first-rate musicals in Pittsfield. And the Berkshires also has the Berkshire Opera Festival, the Berkshire Playwrights Lab, the Berkshire Theater Group, Jacob’s Pillow Dance Festival, and Tanglewood’s amazing schedule of popular and classical music.
• Head east, to Northampton, where its Paradise City Cultural District offers performance venues, museums, galleries, and shops. Visit the Emily Dickinson Museum in nearby Amherst, along with the Mead Art Museum, and the UMass Fine Arts Center.
• Springfield is the birthplace of basketball and beloved children’s author Dr. Seuss. It is also the home to the Dr. Seuss National Memorial Sculpture Garden, Springfield Symphony Orchestra, CityStage, and the Community Music School.
• The Worcester Art Museum’s collection spans 51 centuries of Art. The town has many colorful murals, the Hanover Theatre for the Performing Arts, and the Worcester County Light Opera Company.
• Not far from Fenway Park, Boston’s Museum of Fine Art has an amazing 450,000 works of art! The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum also has an amazing collection of works, housed in an architectural marvel. Symphony Hall is the venue for America’s favorite orchestra, the Boston Symphony.
• To the southeast, in New Bedford, the town’s namesake Symphony Orchestra is one of the oldest regional orchestras in the U.S. The former whaling center has a whaling museum, of course, and many art galleries, the Zeiterion Performing Arts Center, and Your Theater, Inc., a community theater group.
