  - In Washington County, 234 Arts-Related Businesses employ 679 people.
  - In Windham County, 178 Arts-Related Businesses employ 411 people.

Economics

- Nonprofit arts is a driver of our national, state, and local economy.
- In 2015, nonprofit arts organizations in the state generated $122.9 million in economic activity annually that supported 4,268 jobs and generated $9.8 million in state and local government revenue.
  - In the Greater Burlington Area, nonprofit arts groups generated $59.1 million in economic activity. Audiences of 1.1 million people added another $36.0 million in related spending for a total of $95.2 million for the city in 2015, and this generated $9.1 million in local and state government revenues.

Public Investment in Grants to Nonprofit Arts Organizations & Artists

- So how much is the federal government investing in the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA)?
  - Congress has proposed allocating $162.25 million to the NEA in FY 2020, which has been relatively level for the last several years. This amounts to just $49 per capita, yet the nonprofit arts industry generates over $13 billion in federal tax revenue back to the treasury. Imagine what nonprofit arts groups could generate with $1 per capita!

Funding

What about Vermont—how much does state government budget to the Vermont Council on the Arts each year?

- In FY 2020, the state allocated $723,589 to the Vermont Council on the Arts.

Downtown through pop-up art galleries, live music events, and a 200-foot long trout-themed mural created and installed with the help of more than 150 community members.

In the small town of Bethel, a transformative project brought together the local government, businesses, and members of the community to revitalize the neglected downtown through pop-up art galleries, live music events, and a 200-foot long trout-themed mural created and installed with the help of more than 150 community members.

THE VERMONT ARTS COUNCIL—
The Vermont Arts Council envisions a Vermont where all people have access to the arts and creativity in their lives, education, and communities. Engagement with the arts transforms individuals, connects us more deeply to each other, energizes the economy, and sustains the vibrant cultural landscape that makes Vermont a great place to live. Since 1965, the Council has been the state’s primary provider of funding, advocacy, and information for the arts in Vermont.

THE ARTS ARE EVERYWHERE!

- To fully experience the Northeast Kingdom start with Dog Mountain, home of the Stephen Huneck Gallery and 150 acres of dog-friendly grounds. Or, head to Bread and Puppet, one of the nation’s oldest self-supporting theater companies and a 140-year old hay barn that has been transformed into a museum with an exquisite collection.
- Burlington, Vermont’s “Queen City,” is both the largest city in the state and a hub of arts activities. On the Church Street pedestrian mall, visit Burlington City Arts and Frog Hollow, home to more than 200 Vermont artists and artisans. Or venture to the South End Arts District for a meandering collection of galleries and artist studios—and the site of the South End Art Hop each September.
- In the picturesque Mad River Valley, The Bundy Modern is positioned on a natural plateau with incredible views of the mountainside—the perfect backdrop for its showing of contemporary art. During August the entire valley celebrates the Vermont Festival of the Arts, with music, art exhibitions, and family-friendly events.
- In Middlebury, the college campus offers the Museum of Art and Mahaney Center for the Arts, Town Hall Theater offers theater, opera, films, and a gallery. It is also host to the August Middlebury New Filmmakers Festival.
