ArtsVote - Make Your Vote Count

The COVID-19 pandemic dramatically impacted our lives, our economy, and now the election in 2020. This year, Election Day on November 3rd will likely represent one of the highest voter turnouts in a century. All but five states (IN, LA, MS, SC, and TX) expanded absentee/mail-in-voting and the great majority of states significantly expanded early in-person voting, except for four states (AL, CT, NH, and NJ). You can download your State Voter Factsheet at ArtsActionFund.org/ArtsVote.

Pollsters Are Expecting a Blue Wave

Will a “blue wave” flip the United States Senate and the White House to Democratic control? Will it expand the Democratic control of the United States House of Representatives? Additionally, presidential election years also affect down ballot candidates at the state and local level. While all 435 Congressional House seats are up for election on their normal two-year cycle, only 35 of the 100 Senate seats are up for election in 2020, since they are on a staggered six-year cycle. As it turns out, Senate Republicans hold two-thirds of those 35 seats that they must defend in a difficult election year. Currently, Republicans control the Senate with a 53-47 margin and Democrats control the House 232-197-1 with five vacancies.

What's at Stake for the Arts?

Fortunately, the arts achieved bipartisan support for the arts in Congress over the last decade. Despite the Trump Administration's consecutive attempts to terminate the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities, a Republican-controlled Senate, and a Democratic-controlled House appropriated budget increases four years in a row. However, funding for the arts and arts education is still woefully inadequate. Americans for the Arts Action Fund members adopted a vision of at least one dollar per capita of arts funding in America. Funding support at this level would be approximately $328 million, instead of the NEA's current level of $162.25 million. Additionally, Congress allocated billions of dollars this year in pandemic economic relief funds through the CARES Act that benefitted thousands of nonprofit and commercial arts organizations and millions of gig workers.

Our 2020 Congressional Arts Report Card features 10 indicators of support for the arts in the House and five indicators in the Senate. While there were no stand-alone floor votes to single out a Member of Congress's specific position on the arts, there were enough other indicators in the House to assign a pro-arts letter grade. However, only a 👍 “Thumb's Up” could be assigned to Senators to reflect their pro-arts support since they had fewer indicators. The Arts Action Fund PAC uses these grades to guide its financial support for those pro-arts incumbents running for re-election.

OUTSTANDING HOUSE ARTS LEADERSHIP DESIGNATION

The Arts Action Fund PAC designated 25 Members of the House of Representatives with additional pro-arts bonus points for exhibiting outstanding pro-arts leadership during the 2019-20 Congressional work period.

OUTSTANDING SENATE ARTS LEADERSHIP DESIGNATION

The Arts Action Fund PAC designated 21 Senators with additional pro-arts points for exhibiting outstanding pro-arts leadership during the 2019-20 Congressional work period.

- Sen. Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) championed key report language to extend FEMA definition of work tools to include tools used by self-employed artists. She also serves as an Ex-Officio member on the National Council on the Arts.
- Sen. Roy Blunt (R-MO) serves as chair of the Senate Labor-HHS-Education Appropriations Subcommittee and consistently works to secure increased funding for the Institute of Museum and Library Services.
- Sen. Shelley Moore Capito (R-WV) regularly promotes the NEA and NEH during committee hearings and behind the scenes. Spoke at the National Council on the Arts meeting in Charleston, WV.
- Sen. Susan Collins (R-ME) serves as co-Chair of the Senate Cultural Caucus to bring federal focus to the arts and humanities.
- Sen. John Cornyn (R-TX) is the co-sponsor of the Save Our Stages bill.
- Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) annually leads the "Dear Colleague" funding request letter for the Office of Museum Services as well as a Senate sign-on letter to President Trump to fund the NEA and NEH.
- Sen. Kamala Harris (D-CA) has made multiple, high profile statements in support of the arts in the Senate and during the 2019-20 presidential campaign trail.
- Sen. Angus King (I-ME) co-lead the FY 2020 funding request Dear Colleague letter for the Office of Museum Services.
- Sen. Amy Klobuchar (D-MN) is a strong proponent of the economic contributions of the arts to our nation's economy and workforce. She is also the co-sponsor of the Save Our Stages bill.
- Sen. James Lankford (R-OK) incorporated the universal charitable tax deduction into the CARES Act to help nonprofits raise money during the Coronavirus pandemic.
- Sen. Patrick Leahy (D-VT) champions the Artist-Museum Partnership Act that would allow artists to take a tax deduction for the fair market value of their work when donated to charitable collecting institutions.
- Sen. Joe Manchin (D-WV) is a strong proponent of supporting the arts in rural communities in West Virginia and states across the country.
- Sen. Lisa A. Murkowski (R-AK) serves as Chair of the Senate Interior Appropriations Subcommittee and has allocated consistent funding increases to the NEA and NEH.
- Sen. Patty Murray (D-WA) is Ranking Member of the Committee on Health, Education, Labor & Pensions and ensures arts education remains an authorized, and funded grant program of the U.S. Department of Education.
- Sen. Jack Reed (D-RI) serves on Senate Interior and Senate Labor-H Appropriations Subcommittees to help advance funding and policies for the arts and arts education.
- Sen. Bernie Sanders (D-VT) is a national advocate of supporting the arts to help bring unique identities to communities large and small and preserve our cultural heritage.
- Sen. Brian Schatz (D-HI) has taken the lead on advancing the CREATE Act and the PLACE Act to support incorporating creative workers and the creative economy throughout every facet of government.
- Sen. Chuck Schumer (D-NY) provides instrumental support for the arts and initiates peer-to-peer advocacy to protect and increase federal investment in the arts and arts education, including the CARES Act.
- Sen. Richard Shelby (R-AL) serves as Chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee and ensured that the Appropriations Committee advanced strong, bipartisan bills to support the arts and humanities.
- Sen. Jon Tester (D-MT) is a very enthusiastic supporter of the importance of music and arts in children's lives and the community.
- Sen. Tom Udall (D-NM) serves as co-Chair of the Senate Cultural Caucus and annually leads the federal funding request in support of the NEA and NEH. He also sponsored the CREATE Act, S. 650 to support the creative economy.
- Sen. Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI) is a strong proponent of the educational and economic benefits of the arts and design.

The Congressional Arts Report Card 2020 is paid for by Americans for the Arts Action Fund PAC and not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.

ArtsActionFund.org/ReportCard

Americans for the Arts Action Fund PAC is the only national bipartisan political action committee devoted to supporting pro-arts federal candidates in the elections. This direct support to candidates from PAC contributions is one of the most effective ways to help shape public policy. Members of Congress know that PACs connected to membership organizations represent an activist voting constituency.

By giving to the Arts Action Fund PAC, you will send a message to candidates that arts advocates will support elected leaders who will stand up for every child's right to a comprehensive, high quality arts education and who will promote public policies to provide individuals and families affordable access to all forms of the arts. Your contribution will also help us more effectively rally national support against attacks to the arts as well as build the necessary influence to ensure bipartisan support for the arts. You can contribute to the Arts Action Fund PAC online at ArtsActionFund.org/formassembly/fa\_form/86.

For questions about this report, please contact Arts Action Fund and PAC Executive Director Nina Ozlu Tunceli at ntunceli@artsusa.org or call 202-371-2830.
